

The Ohio Invasive Plants Council
presents:
The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly

The best plants for Southwest Ohio gardens and the worst invaders of Ohio's natural habitats.

Saturday, February 14, 2009
Cincinnati Zoo and Botanical Garden,
At the Harold C. Schott Education Center
10am - 3pm

Local experts will present information on what plants are invasive in our area and how to control them.
You will also learn which trees, shrubs and flowers grow best in the tri-state area.

Register by February 10, online at www.oipc.info or by calling 771-4055 ext.202

Your $10 registration fee includes admission, lunch, and supports the Ohio Invasive Plants Council and the Cincinnati Zoo and Botanical Garden.

